

Lockly Total Access™ - property management made easy

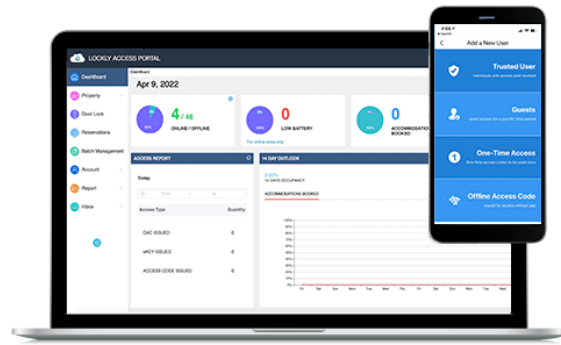

Smart Living Properties chose LocklyPro for its vertically integrated property access solution.

Based in Ottawa Canada, Smart Living Properties has developed a portfolio of fully furnished, all-inclusive rental properties ranging from modern, furnished studio apartments to all-inclusive 2 and 4 bedroom units.

Done with their outdated analog entry systems, Smart Living turned to LocklyPro for its fully integrated, end-to-end smart property access solution featuring hardware and software that work seamlessly together.

"Having a single vendor that designs, manufactures, and develops its own hardware, and software, along with Pro-level support was key for us" says Tanner Brady, Facility Technician, Smart Living Properties.

"Property Technology is Not Going Away"

Give Your Residents the Amenity They Are Asking For.

Multifamily investors across the country are asking the same questions regarding how to gain and retain residents. The coronavirus pandemic, for all of its struggles, actually brought about rapid changes regarding technology adoption in the multifamily space. A sector that is usually a laggard with change was ready for a makeover. Enter property technology, or as it is more commonly referred to, “proptech.”
